Notice/Disclosure

Amplicon, LLC is a debt collection agency. As such, you are hereby notified that any and all information obtained, including information obtained via our website, will be used for that purpose.

This Privacy Policy has been created to safeguard your privacy while you use our website. If you have any questions regarding our Privacy Policy, please email us at info@ampliconinc.com Related services and offerings with links from this website, including vendor and payment sites, have their own privacy statements.

Collection of Data

Amplicon, LLC is a debt collection agency. As such you are hereby notified that any and all information obtained, including information obtained via our website, will be used for that purpose.

Personal information (such as name, address, phone number, email address, etc.) may be collected from you via our website or any of the links contained on our website. Information collected is securely stored and may not be available to you for modification once submitted. Amplicon, LLC will never sell this information, but we may provide it to authorized third-parties (such as our attorneys and others) as we undertake our collection services.

Accuracy

We are committed to using reasonable procedures to ensure that any information you provide is collected, used, and exchanged accurately and completely.

Cookies

Like many other commercial sites, our website may utilize a standard technology called a “cookie” to collect information about how our site is used. Cookies were designed to help a Web site recognize a user’s browser as a previous visitor and thus save and remember any preferences that may have been set while the user was browsing the site. A cookie cannot retrieve any other data from your hard drive, pass on a computer virus, or capture your e-mail address. Our website may use cookies to securely store our client’s and customer’s username(s) and password(s) or to make it easier for you to access the site in the future.

Security

To the extent we store it, any information that you provide via our website is securely stored. Any storage of any credit card or payment information, to the extent there is any, is done by our third-party payment processor in accordance with their own privacy statement and controlling laws.

Use of Information

During your visit(s) to our site, your usage may be logged by our web server. We may collect user-specific information on what pages you access or visit, as well as information volunteered by you. This information may be used to generate reports on web traffic and usage that allow us to modify this site to best fit our needs. It may also be used to aid us in our collection efforts.

Compliance

We have made a strong commitment to collect, use and disclose information in accordance with applicable state and federal laws, including the Fair Credit Reporting

Act and the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act. We have also made a strong commitment to the training and ongoing education of all employees regarding information practices and the proper handling and use of information obtained.
